I'm two hours in and so far it's been a blast. I don't normally like platformers but this one entertains me for some reason. I guess maybe because it makes me laugh and actually has some pretty decent mechanics . It's rather brutal but for some reason i have to keep going. I'm close to 800 deaths now and only just beat the third boss.

The game does have a few quirks but none have been deal breakers.
